

Of forts, cannons, and graves

Written by Nanda

Tuesday, 20 October 2009 00:53

Of forts, cannons, and graves

Written by Nanda

Tuesday, 20 October 2009 00:53

About an hour-plus drive from bustling KL, accompanied by views of the unperturbed daily life along old trunk roads, lies the old royal capital of Selangor. The old town holds guard to the entrance of Bukit Melawati that stands overlooking Kuala Selangor and the Straits of Malacca.

The hill hosts a lighthouse as well as remnants of our historical past, silently witnessing the changing times and our evolution.

Of forts, cannons, and graves

Written by Nanda

Tuesday, 20 October 2009 00:53

Of forts, cannons, and graves

Written by Nanda

Tuesday, 20 October 2009 00:53

Of forts, cannons, and graves

Written by Nanda

Tuesday, 20 October 2009 00:53

Copyright © 2012 John Wiley & Sons, Ltd. J. Forecast. 32, 1–24 (2013) DOI: 10.1002/for

Of forts, cannons, and graves

Written by Nanda

Tuesday, 20 October 2009 00:53

Written by Nanda
Tuesday, 20 October 2009 00:53

Tuesday, 20 October 2009 00:53

Pictures 2-3&4 Wongrakumar Handas