

Hear them speak

Written by straits-mongrel
Monday, 07 December 2009 16:07

Hear them speak

Written by straits-mongrel
Monday, 07 December 2009 16:07

He was probably a youth, I'd imagine, full of vigor and hope, if not for the war. His bones lie below the limestone slab etched in his honour, as with many others at the Taiping War Cemetery. His identity was never established, except that he was Indian. An ocean away from home, fighting a battle he might not have even fathomed.

Hear them speak

Written by straits-mongrel
Monday, 07 December 2009 16:07

Rehan and I speak to Malaysia's first ever female police officer about her life in uniform

Hear them speak

Written by straits-mongrel
Monday, 07 December 2009 16:07

TAIPING WAR CEM
SCALE

